What can prove to be difficult is capturing people's attention. What's your purpose? What point are you trying to make? What is your end goal? Once you have the answers to these questions you have the challenge of putting into fruition what you are trying to accomplish. The point of it all is to stand out from the rest; Be different, Be bold, Be authentic. On any Social Media site it is important to capture your audience's attention immediately. A recent study by Microsoft found that the average attention span of a person is 8 seconds. That means your main page must have a great catchy title or an eye catching image to draw someone in. Beyond the visuals you must have a purpose. Below are some strategies that will help capture and keep your audience's attention. Be Active.
