

Second Sunday in Easter

01 MAY, 2011

Wasn't Lent, Holy Week and Easter, 2011 just spectacular here at the FCMM? From the Friday Stations of the Cross to the five nights of the 'PABASA', the prayers during the Anointing of the Sick to the reading of the Passion at Palm Sunday, through the Mass of the Lord's Supper, the celebration of the Passion of the Lord on Good Friday, the Great Easter Vigil and our beautiful liturgy on Easter morning, our church was alive with the presence of Jesus Christ! Holy Week and Easter are central to us as we celebrate our faith as a Catholic community. Certainly here in the FCMM, the large crowds-at all of our Masses and liturgical services are testament to the powerful presence of Jesus in our midst. It doesn't seem that long ago that we came together and proudly wore the sign of the cross - in ashes - on our foreheads as we began our spiritual journey to meet the Lord in Resurrection. Hopefully our Lenten practices, prayers and sacrifices helped each of us to become ready to open our hearts to the Lord's beautiful presence. There can be no doubt that the special celebrations of Holy Week and Easter brought our Lenten journey to a high point---how could we not be moved by the love of our Lord---how could we not be proud to proclaim the presence of Jesus Christ to everyone! Isn't it something how the small cross on our foreheads has led to the waving of the palm, the washing of the feet, the arrest and suffering of Jesus, the horrible death of Jesus by crucifixion? Finally that small ashen cross has led us to the joy of Resurrection---the Empty Tomb! Our Lenten preparation doesn't end now. As we celebrate the joy of the ever-present Jesus in our midst, we need to continue to remain active participants in the Christian virtues of prayer, penance and sacrifice if we are to continue to fully share in Christ's salvific action in the world. All too often, the light of Christ that is now ablaze in our hearts slowly lessens in its intensity---sometimes to the point that even we forget that it is there. Our task now is to continue to live our lives totally connected to the risen Lord---to stoke the fire that is Christ so that it burns ever brightly in our hearts for all to see. Jesus Christ is the answer to the ills of the world. And Jesus Christ is alive and present in the world today---seen and heard by all through us: through our actions and through our words. So live Christ in all you say and live Christ in all you do!

Did you notice? Today is called the "Second Sunday of Easter," not the "First Sunday after Easter." Our celebration of Easter is not over. These Sundays of Easter continue to present the mystery of Jesus Christ's victory. The readings begin with the "signs and wonders" abounding in those earliest days. Sick people lay in the street, hoping that at least Peter's "shadow might fall on one or another of them." Then, in a powerful passage from the Book of Revelation, the visionary falls down "as though dead" upon seeing the victorious Christ. But Christ extends a gentle touch: "Do not be afraid ... once I was dead, but now I am alive forever." In the Gospel, that same Christ appears and breathes on the disciples, and gently leads Thomas to believe. This Christ—more powerful than any evil force, victorious over death itself—touches us and whispers, "Do not be afraid."

TRUSTING CHRIST'S DIVINE MERCY

St. Faustina Kowalska was a Polish nun who died on October 5, 1938 at only 33 years of age. She had lived a very simple life proclaiming an extremely simple message: the Heart of Jesus is overflowing with divine mercy toward sinners and wants all to come to him with trust-filled love. This invitation is powerfully expressed in the classic painting of the Risen Christ, which an artist executed under the guidance of Sr. Faustina herself who, on 22 February 1931, had seen him with red and pale rays of light emanating from his chest. Those rays of light recalled the blood and water that flowed down from the pierced heart of Christ on the cross and symbolized the inexhaustible richness of his merciful love made present and available to all through the Sacraments. Jesus himself had instructed Sr. Faustina to have the sentence "JESUS, I TRUST IN YOU" written at the bottom of that painting. This sentence expresses the response of humble faith on the part of the sinner to the endless mercy with which God views mankind and constantly brings about the salvation of the world. This is the mercy that brought God's Son to become a human being and to give his life on the cross for all sinners. This is also the same mercy that led the Risen Christ to go in search of his disciples the very day he rose from death, to reassure them of his forgiving love. No revenge for having been deserted by them right when he needed their allegiance most, but only the gifts of his peace and comforting presence. No bitterness against the doubting Thomas who persisted in rejecting the witness of his companions, but only patient understanding for his weakness, and a tender desire to arouse in him faith in the Resurrection. "My Lord and my God!" exclaimed the bewildered apostle as he felt himself inundated by the love of the Man-God who had only words of mercy and forgiveness for him. "Jesus, remember me when you enter into your reign!" had been the earnest plea of the man being executed with him on Calvary as he viewed his life as a total failure and Jesus' mercy as his only hope. And he was not disappointed. "Jesus, have mercy on me. I trust in you!" is the expression of complete self-surrender which all of us should address to our Savior as we realize our unworthiness and our need to be forgiven. What can save us from the devastating consequences of our sins is only God's merciful love. And this is what we implore, in all humility and confidence, not only on this Second Sunday of Easter, but throughout our lives, until our last moments. Like the repentant thief dying on a cross, side by side with the Innocent Victim, we place all our trust in Jesus, the King of Divine Mercy.

Pope John Paul II (Latin: Ioannes Paulus PP. II ), born Karol Józef Wojtyła (May 18, 1920 - April 2, 2005) reigned as pope of the Roman Catholic Church for almost 27 years, from October 16 - 1978 until his death, making his the second-longest pontificate. On May 9, 2005 Pope Benedict XVI, John Paul II's successor, waived the five year waiting period for a cause for beatification to be opened. He was the first Polish pope and the first non-Italian pope since the 16th century. His early reign was marked John Paul II (Latin: Ioannes Paulus PP. II, Italian: Giovanni Paolo II, Polish: Jan Paweł II) born Karol Józef Wojtyła, IPA: [ˈkɑɛ̃ːɹ̄ ˈjuz̥ɨ̃ɹ̄ vɛ̃ːi̯lˈɛ̃ːwa]; 18 May 1920 – 2 April 2005) reigned as the 263rd Pope of the Roman Catholic Church and Sovereign of the State of the Vatican City from 16 October 1978 until his death, almost 27 years later. His was the second-longest pontificate after Pius IX's 32-year reign. He has been the only Polish pope, and was the first non-Italian pope since the Dutch Adrian VI in the 1520s. John Paul II was Pope during a period in which the Catholic Church's
