Author name list precedes "Chapter Title", indicating that Author(s) is/are credited for "Chapter Title". 'In' introduces the Editor name list. "the book is really the product of the editors and its various contributors" is wonderful, and totally immaterial: that the IPCC attributes some content as collectively "IPCC" (instead of to individual authors and editors) is their call, not yours. Any problems with the use of |series= can be discussed, but is off-topic for this discussion. Music Titles on AudioJungle. Updated August 27, 2019 02:40. AudioJungle as a marketplace has seen the emergence of distinct titling trends. In this article, we will explore the two main types of Item Titles and contrast the pros and cons for both kinds. Then, we'll lay out the general guidelines to adhere to when setting titles specifically for AudioJungle submissions. Creative Titles. These are titles that one could expect to see as a book title, or the name of a song, for example. A Walk in the Park. The Best Day Ever.
