February Guest Artist Katherine Chang Liu

Our February guest artist for both the General Meeting and Workshop is Katherine Chang Liu, an abstract painter and collage artist whose work is exhibited and collected internationally. Her work is introspective, subtly combining western modernism with elements of Chinese heritage.

Katherine was born in China, educated in Taiwan and the US, and received her M.S. from the University of California, Berkeley. Her work has been featured in 21 books and over 45 magazine articles. A recipient of funding from the National Endowment for the Arts, Katherine has served as a frequent juror for national, regional, and state-wide exhibitions. She has taught for museums and numerous national and regional art groups since 1978. With a long list of solo and group exhibitions, awards, and inclusion of her art in many public and private collections, Katherine is a very successful artist who also enjoys teaching, but has reduced her teaching activities to three to four workshops a year, so CWA is quite fortunate to be hosting one of those workshops.

On the subject of teaching, Katherine says, "Teaching is something I enjoy doing, starting with tutoring math to elementary school kids when I was in junior high. My belief is that teaching is about the effective sharing of information, whether it is in math, science, or in art. Since 1978, I have been in the wonderful position of teaching where I want to, and working with artists in various capacities."

On her approach to teaching, Katherine says, "I pay much attention to the observation of each artist's particular intent and ability in his work, and hopefully sort things out, and guide this artist's further development. Sometimes I suggest small adjustments, and other times I try to work with the artist to find the clarification of his content, and how he might best express that content." In her CWA workshop, Katherine will be providing two private critiques for each participant, one with work brought from home and later on in the week, with work done in class.

On judging shows and creativity in painting, Katherine has stated, "Those that receive awards are the ones that really grab me. I think most of the paintings that are entered into shows that I judge are well designed and well-executed. But that is not really anything I even think about. What I look for is the artist's sincere involvement. Some artists are so removed from what they want to say that it's as if their brush couldn't have a long enough handle. They seem that detached. And some other artists will paint so close to their heart that they almost seem to be bleeding onto the page. The paintings in a show that stand out for me are usually the ones that are the most heartfelt."

Come hear Katherine's presentation on contemporary water media art in the United States at the February meeting.

A Good New Habit!

A vital component to the creative life—most especially the life of a painter—is visiting museums and looking at art, all kinds of art. Make a habit of finding out what's out there, and then go see it! Take advantage of the rich culture the Bay Area has to offer. Make it one of your goals for the new year to visit one gallery, exhibit or museum a month. Your work will grow in ways you can't imagine. You will fill yourself up with ideas and inspiration!

Katherine Chang Liu
“Open Studio”
February 14 - 18
(Intermediate/Advanced)
 limited space available!

Katherine is an internationally known painter, juror, curator, and teacher; she designed this workshop to help artists find their own voices. To this end, Katherine gives each participant two private critiques, one of prior work and one of work done in the workshop and offers specific guidance going forward. Since she gives only a few workshops a year, we are very fortunate to be able to have her $585 for CWA members.

Don Andrews
“Figure”

March 14-18
(Intermediate/Advanced)

Don teaches that “successful figure painting is more than a visual explanation of anatomical parts.”

He adds: “We can also benefit from exploring the figure through color, design, and paint quality directions as well.” The workshop will be geared toward painters eager “to stretch beyond the usual answers and discover a new looseness and expressive paint quality in their work.” $425 for CWA members.

Janet Rogers
“Expressive Flowers, Faces & Figures”
April 18-22 (All levels)

Using a series of “fun” painting exercises, students will develop a direct, loose and natural approach to painting; although the demos and instruction will begin with flowers and end with the portrait/figure, students may choose to paint only flowers or portraits. Janet, an AWS Signature Member, is a very experienced workshop instructor and enjoys working individually with students in addition to providing class instruction. $395 for CWA members.

Jeannie McGuire
“Figurative Design”
May 16-20 (All levels)

With a strong emphasis on design, contrast, paint consistency and the sense of an emotion or story of the figure, Jeannie will provide individual attention during the initial design process and provide critiques along the way to encourage unique style in the depiction of figures or faces, using watercolor in a non-traditional way. $395 for CWA members.

Registration now available for these stimulating and inspiring workshops!

David Savellano
“Travel Sketching & Plein Air Painting”

June 14-16 (All levels)

Well known for his highly instructive workshops on this subject, CWA member David will teach techniques and tools for quick sketching and watercolor painting that will enable you to record your travel experiences meaningfully, artfully and with great efficiency. $245 (3 days) for CWA members.

Cheng-Khee Chee
“Watercolor: Synthesizing East & West”
Sept. 19-23 (All levels)

Each day, Cheng-Khee will teach/demo a different concept/technique (traditional, saturated wet, improvisational, crinkling, marbling and monoprinting), and then work individually with students as they apply the concept to their own works, using their own reference material. The focus will be on process, not product. $395 for CWA members.

Kathleen Conover
“Chaos to Order”
October 17-21 (All levels)

Kathleen’s objective is to further develop students’ compositional skills with daily demonstrations and design-strengthening exercises, along with innovative approaches to problem solving; she will also share new painting techniques including the use of gesso and acrylic mediums with watercolor to create texture. $395 for CWA members. NOTE:

Kathleen has a painting in the AWS Traveling Exhibition of 40 paintings which is currently touring the country and exhibited in Sacramento in January.

Register for these exciting workshops online at www.californiawatercolor.org before they fill up!

outreach news

CWA's Outreach Program Director, Nan Lovington and Assistant to the Director, FROgard Butler are busy designing a flyer for the Outreach Program. This flyer will be used to pass out to the general public to educate organizations, schools, and groups about our volunteers who do watercolor/water media demonstrations. In order for CWA to maintain its non profit status, we need to give back to the community. It is through these classroom demonstrations and events, including county fairs, art in the park, community organizations and groups that we spread the joy making of art. CWA's Outreach Program provides all the paint, paper, brushes and any materials needed; this includes professional volunteer artists who do the teaching and demonstrating. Come have fun with us and volunteer. Go to Outreach on our website and click to leave us a note on how you can help.

We have a need for a volunteer in March to help with the boy scouts who will be doing something for Habitat for Humanity.

Thank you to Fred Kling, Melissa Adkison, Nan Lovington, Keiko Stong, and Lynda Moore. All these artists and more have helped with recent Outreach events.
